Bills by Mr. Danford.

On Monday Congressman L. Danford, of the district over the river, introduced a bill, referring to the court of claims, a claim of Balle and Evans on an alleged contract to supply beef to the United States troops in West Virginia, in 1862, and bills to correct the military record of John T. Hunt and to pension Ross M. Stevens.

Robert Marlowe Dead.

Chief of Police Bennett yesterday evening received a telegram from Seattle, Washington, stating that one Robert Marlowe had been found dead there, and asking if his relatives could be found. No particulars were given as to the manner of his death or as to his identity, or why they thought he was from Wheeling. It is believed, however, that he is Robert Newton Marlowe, who left here several years ago.

The Late Marcus Baer.

The funeral of Mr. Marcus Baer, whose death in his forty-second year was announced in the Intelligencer yesterday, will take place this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, from his late residence at Pleasant Valley. Upchurch lodge of the A. O. U. W. and Wheeling lodge of Masons, will both attend in a body. The interment will be at Greenwood cemetery, and a special train will leave town on the Elm Grove road at 2:15.

In the Courts.

In Judge Campbell's part of the circuit court the contested will case of Mrs. Albiner again occupied the entire day's session.

The case of William and Elizabeth Embien, on indictment No. 9, for renting a house to Nellie White to be used as a house of ill fame, was tried in the criminal court, and the jury promptly returned a verdict of guilty. A motion for a new trial was entered and argued at once to the court.

They Were Released.

There were lively times at Squire Arkle's court yesterday afternoon. An oil man from Mannington named Merville came to the city on Monday evening and spent his substance in riotous living. Unlike the prodigal son he feared the hounds would turn into gold. As they didn't do so at once he tried to assist by invoking the aid of the law. One of the places he visited was May Thompson's mansion in Alley C. He went before Squire Arkle and instituted the suit, on a civil suit for the return of seven dollars, and also a robbery charge against May Thompson and one against Dot Higgins, an inmate. After hearing the evidence and the arguments, the justice discharged the defendants. Dryden and Robinson represented the defendants.

Mother Goose Market.

The hospital benefit, which will be given next week, beginning Friday, at Arion hall, promises to be the society event of the season. This is so because of the fact that the association is made up largely of women who are social leaders in the town, and whose names are invariably connected with any leading event that takes place. The members of the various committees have displayed admirable taste in the decorations that have been chosen for the booths, and commendable tact and genius in devising original and interesting forms of entertainment for the visitors who will throng the Arion club house during the four evenings that the bazaar will be held. The "Country Store" will be a feature entirely new to Wheeling people and promises to be one of the most original of the many attractions that have been arranged for. Each evening there will be a programme of music and readings, and it is hoped that the "Mother Goose Cantata," given by twenty little children at the children's ball at the Arion last week, will be repeated on one of the evenings.

DIRECTORS ELECTED.

Results of Several Important Stockholders' Meetings.

 C. R. Hubbard, Thomas O'Brien, A. W. Campbell, W. A. Beatt, George K. Wheat, Alonzo Loring, A. J. Clarke, William Seidel and H. H. Hornbrook.
 The Wheeling Lumber Company also met in annual stockholders' session and elected directors as follows: C. J. Rawling, J. M. Browne, J. C. Brady, James M. Cecil, C. H. Hubbard, C. A. Robinson and G. M. Ford.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Fire and Marine Insurance Company was held yesterday, and the election of directors resulted in the choice of the following:

The first bottle of it so far relieved me that I was enabled to attend to my work, and the second bottle effected a cure." For sale at 25 and 50 cents per bottle.

BLACK DIAMONDS.

The Pittsburgh Coal Fleet Passed this Port Yesterday.

THE LEADERS OF THE FLEET

Flirted with the ice with somewhat disastrous effect—Two Boats Tied up at Bellaire for Repairs—No Serious Disasters Are Yet Reported—Congressman Dovenor Talks of the Coming Visit of the Rivers and Harbors Committee.

All day yesterday the river was full of tow boats—the first Pittsburgh coal fleet to go south in 1896. As reported exclusively in yesterday's Intelligencer, the advance guard of the fleet, the Resolute and Raymond Horner, passed this port at 1 o'clock yesterday morning. At that hour the ice was rather thick and very heavy and the wheels of the towboats had suffered greatly in swinging their tows at heads in the river. The damage was so severe that both the Resolute and Horner tied up at Bellaire and received repairs yesterday. They had not departed last evening at 6 o'clock.

The Tornado and Smoky City became the flagships of the fleet when the Resolute and Horner put in at Bellaire for repairs. They passed Wheeling yesterday morning at 4 o'clock. The other departures were: Hawk, 9 a. m.; Sam Brown, Little Fred, 10 a. m.; Pacific No. 2, Advance, Courier, Mariner, 11 a. m.; Onward, 1 p. m.; Hornet No. 2, Cyclone, John Moren, 2 p. m.; George Shiras, 3 p. m.; Belle McGowan, 3:30 p. m.

The Tom Dodsorth and Joseph Walton passed down with coal at 6 p. m., and the Enterprise and Dick Fulton went up with empty. Other coal tows were passing during the night, but none reported at the wharfbait.

The following coal tows have departed from Pittsburgh since those reported yesterday: Clipper, 2 coalboats, 5 barges, 1 flat; Henry Delfus, 2 coalboats, 4 barges, 1 flat; Rescuer, 4 coalboats, 1 barge, 1 flat; Dave Wood, 6 coalboats; Bertha, 5 barges, 1 flat; Dauntless, 3 barges, 5 flats; Monterey, 5 barges; Pacific, 6 coalboats 1 flat; John W. Allen, 5 coalboats, 1 flat; Bob Connell, 4 barges, 1 flat; Little Fred, 2 coalboats, 4 barges, 4 flats; Ark, 9 barges, 1 flat; Clifton, 15 barges; Voyager, 7 coalboats; Jos. Walton, 6 coalboats, 2 barges; Tornado, 4 barges; Hustler, 3 barges; Crusier, 5 coalboats, 4 barges; Cyclone, 5 barges; Mark Winst, 5 barges; Dave Wood, 4 barges; Acorn, 5 coalboats; Twilight, 5 coalboats, 1 flat; B. D. Wood, 9 barges, 1 flat; R. M. Blackburn, 5 barges, 1 flat; Percy Kelsey, 10 barges, 2 flats; Voyager, 4 barges; J. C. Risher, 3 coalboats; Valliant, 12 barges, 3 flats; Jim Moren, 2 coalboats, 5 barges, 2 flats; Stella, 5 barges, 2 flats; Monterey, 4 barges.

This makes a shipment of 62 coalboats, 136 barges and 23 flats, aggregating 3,428,000 bushels. The total shipment of coal on the present run thus far is 6,829,000 bushels. The total run of coal since the November rise amounts to about 22,000,000 bushels. There is yet in the harbor and pools awaiting shipment about 3,000,000 bushels.

Congressman Dovenor, of the Wheeling district, was in the city yesterday, en route from Washington to New Martinsville, where he has legal business in the courts. While in Wheeling he talked of the coming visit of the house rivers and harbors committee to Wheeling and Pittsburgh. Just now the committee is very busy and has accepted the invitation to inspect the upper Ohio without fixing the time. Although the committee will be very busy for some time, its members feel that the subject of river improvement is so important that a visit is easily justified. The committee plans the following itinerary of its trip:

Leave Washington in the evening and reach Pittsburgh next morning; spend the day in and about the Smoky City, inspecting the river and industries that are allied with the river, the day ending with a banquet tendered the committee by the Pittsburgh river people. Leave Pittsburgh on the following morning and go "Through by Daylight" on the Virginia to Wheeling, ninety miles, inspecting the river on the way; banquet at Wheeling in the evening tendered by the chamber of commerce. Third day—Leave Wheeling on Virginia for Parkersburg, ninety-three miles. Banquet in the evening under the auspices of the board of trade.

Captain Dovenor, on his return to Washington from New Martinsville, will stop at Pittsburgh to consult with the Pittsburgh river people as to features of the programme of the committee's visit to the river. It is thought the committee will come out in April or May.

Mr. W. C. Bergundthal, of Bellaire, was in the city yesterday and had a talk with Mr. Hart, chairman of the chamber of commerce committee on river improvement. He is a representative of the Bellaire board of trade, which has appointed a committee to co-operate with the Wheeling committee in doing all possible for improvement of the river, especially the local end—the dam below Bellaire. The Bellaire people are fully alive to the advantages consequent to this proposed river improvement.
